Dubai's leading Property Brokerage taps on expertise of local Tech company

An Xing Technology spearheads Tech leveraged by FIDU Properties Dubai

Singapore, 26 November 2021

Local company, An Xing Technology Pte Ltd, was formally appointed the Technological Service Provider of Dubai's leading Real Estate agency, FIDU Properties Dubai, to reinvent Singapore's matured Property landscape.

From 2019, An Xing Technology has been FIDU Properties Dubai's trusted authority in enhancing emerging technologies used in propelling their business. Since our incorporation, we have devoted our capabilities in equipping FIDU Properties Dubai to remain in the forefront of the Property landscape. We fortify our affiliated businesses to fulfil their objectives with cutting-edge application of the latest technology.

COVID19 outlasted the world's expectation of a pandemic lifespan. Global economies assumed we could make do with the current circumstances. However, two years on, and industries still struggle to stay afloat, the property market was not an exception.

In view of the pandemic, An Xing Technology assumed the role of empowering businesses to rise above their limitations, leverage the restrictions to propel themselves forward. Our present year-long collaboration with FIDU properties Dubai was spent identifying gaps in the transactional journeys of Property Developers and their Clients. This year-long analysis is but the matured Property industry's springboard to a digitised and seamless process through our two-pronged breakthrough-application of the latest technology.

Our mobile application development capabilities empower industry players to safeguard their businesses from enduring, unprecedented circumstances. With the FIDU Properties project as our current portfolio priority, there is much for Singapore's property landscape to anticipate in 2022.
